

SMALL CROWD

In Town Court Day--
About 2,000 Cattle
On the Market.

Quality Only Fair, While Trade
Was Brisk and Prices High.

There was one of the smallest crowds in town court day that has been seen here in many years. The heat was almost unbearable and this was thought to be the reason for such a small crowd. Business was generally slow in all lines.

About 2,000 cattle on the market, quality fair, trade brisk, prices brisker. Highest prices 6½ cents, 6 cents prevailing price for feeders. Yearlings 5½ to 6 cents, Heifers 4½ to 5 cents. Cows 4 to 5 cents.

About 4,000 sheep on the market, ewes selling from 3 to $3.50, Wethers at 2½ to 3 cents per lb. Good crowd at the pens. Good deal of the morning, scales were taxed to their capacity to do the weighing. Some of the sales were:

Milt Lykens sold 14 550 pound heifers to Gay Shroat, of Bath county at 4 cents per pound.

Henry LeMaster sold 40 900 pound steers to Sam Turley at 6 cents. Same party sold 50 700 pound heifers to Henry Bros., at 5 cents.

Sam Wheeler sold 6 800 pound steers to A. L. Tipton at 5.85.

Wheeler & Co. sold Tipton 40 900 pound steers at 5.85.

W. P. Treadway sold a bunch of 850 pound steers to Lem Tipton at 5½ cents.

Carl Trimble sold 32 500 pound yearling steers to B. F. Mark at 6 cents.

J. R. Shroat, of Bath county, bought 12 400 pound heifers at 5 cents per pound.

Henry LeMaster sold 19 500 pound steers to L. C. Ashcraft, of Paris at 5½ cents.

Wm. Morton sold 27 cows and steers at from 4½ to 5½ cents.

Matt Long, of Bourbon county, bought 29 about 500 pound steers of Henry LeMaster at $29 per head.

George Halsey and Byrd sold 29 750 pound cows to Ben Buddy, of Cincinnati, at 3 cents.

B. F. Clark, of Sharpsburg, bought a bunch of 400 pound heifers of Sam Wheeler at 5 cents.

F. Kerns, of Carlisle, bought 50 cows, heifers and oxen at 4½ to 5 cents.

D. C. Cleveland, of Cynthiana, bought 50 cows and bulls at from 3½ to 4½ cents.

Murphy & Kash sold 23 650 pound steers to Thos. Adams, of Fayette county at 5½ cents.

Ben Murphy sold a yoke of 2900 pound oxen to Sam Murphy, at 6½ cents.

Sam Keeton sold 38 850 pound steers to Sam Turley and Lorien B., at 6 cents.

G. L. McIntyre, of Lexington, bought 250 ewes and wethers at 3 cents.

A. B. Cook bought of Thos. D. Robertson, of Bethel, a nice harness mare for $300.

Wm. Reasor, of Salt Lick sold 7, 15 hand mules at $200 per head.

EVERYTHING IN READINESS

For the Big Fair, Which Begins
Next Tuesday.

The big Montgomery County Fair will begin next Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, and promises to be the greatest event of the season. The grounds have been cleaned and buildings whitewashed and new buildings erected and 21 reserve seat boxes built, making the fair grounds one of the most attractive in the State. Horses are now coming in and all stable room has been reserved. Nothing like it was ever known before. All the best horses in the country will be here, and the big Midway will be erected Monday and will be ready. Season tickets are going fast. The first day's program will be one of the best that could be arranged, and if you wish to see something good you must attend the Fair next Tuesday. The three-year-old saddle class and the sensational three-year-old pace and 2:17 trot will occur on that day. Don't forget the big balloon ascension. Mayor Samuels is going to declare holiday on Tuesday afternoon and ask all business houses to close. Everyone should go to the Fair and give it a good start. Season tickets are selling rapidly. Price $1.50. Try to get one.

For Rent.

I have for rent my cottage on Lexington avenue, of six rooms and bath. All modern improvements. All in good repair. Apply to DR. J. F. REYNOLDS.

BASE BALL THIS WEEK

Five Games Are to Be Played In This City.
Paris Here Today.

Team Has Been Strengthened and Should Play Winning Ball.

This week's schedule in the Blue Grass League is as follows:

Paris here today and Lexington Thursday and Friday. The Mt. Sterling team has been greatly strengthened and should from now on play winning ball. It seems we will at least get an even break with Paris and Lexington, although both of these teams are going good. Manager Patterson is doing everything in his power to give this city a winning team and if he succeeds there is no doubt but that Mt. Sterling will prove one of the best drawing towns in the league, but a team must win ball to draw crowds. So far the fans have patronized the home team very liberal, and if they will just jump in and win a few games the park will not hold the crowds. On account of the Fair there will be no games here next week, all of them being transferred to other towns. During the past week our losing streak was not broken, but it is thought with the new additions which have been made to the team at least half of the games will be captured by the locals this week. Let's continue to attend the games and pull hard for the home team and we are sure to soon have a winner.

Rain and Hail Storm.

Last Thursday afternoon the southern part of the county was visited with a severe rain and hail storm, much damage being done to growing crops. Many fences, bridges and water gages were washed away and much other damage done. Lulabegud creek was said to be higher than ever before and much damage was done along this stream.

To Teachers and Trustees.

The proper medium for the settlement of controversies arising between teachers and trustees is the County Superintendent of Schools. Many teachers, trustees and citizens have a custom of writing the State Superintendent of Public Instruction about every little detail of school management. I have no objection to answering these inquiries and it is always a pleasure to render assistance to any school official or citizen interested in the welfare of the school. These requests often state only one side of the question and it is impossible to give a fair decision until we have heard both sides. In view of these facts, I think it wise and just for all trustees, teachers and citizens to submit these questions first to the County Superintendent. When an opinion is needed, the County Superintendent is the proper person to ask for an opinion from the State office. When this is done, he can give both sides of the question and the State office can render an intelligent opinion. Strictly speaking, I have no authority to give an opinion, except upon an appeal from the decision of the County Superintendent or upon his request.

I desire to make this appeal to all teachers and trustees, to submit your questions first to the County Superintendent, who is the proper person to decide all questions of difference and doubt regarding the schools of his county.

Yours very truly,
BARKSDALE HAMILTON,
Superintendent.

Good Homes Wanted For Little Children.

"A recent advertisement in the county papers succeeded in finding homes for a large number of our children and a great many applications are coming in now for the older children that we cannot fill.

"We have over 60 children under 8 years of age. We have 16 boy babies, 8 months old and younger, splendid little fellows, any one of whom you might expect some day to be President of the United States, and we have the sweetest and prettiest lot of little boys and girls from 2 to 8 years to be found anywhere. These children need homes; especially do they need the pure country air and good food for the summer months.

"Won't you take an interest in these children and allow us to place one of them in your home, on trial at least? It is very hard to have these little children cramped up in an institution during the summer.

"We trust our appeal will result in a large number of applications coming in for the little babies, as well as the boys and girls from 2 to 8 years of age."

Thanking you in advance, I remain

Yours very respectfully,
GEORGE SENON,
State Supt. Kentucky Children's Home Society.

BLUE GRASS FAIR

Seventh Annual Exhibition
Opens At Lexington, Monday, August 12th.

CONTINUES FOR SIX DAYS

Bigger and Better Than Ever This Year—Numerous Attractions, including Innes' Great Orchestral Band,
the Greater Parker Shows and Big Free Attractions.

Lexington, Ky.—Since its organization in 1906, the Blue Grass Fair has taken full rank with the largest and the best of the State Fairs and Expositions of the country. It has very justly become known as the greatest horse show in the world. It is the only Fair which offers a full quota and a classification for breeding classes of the three great breeds of American horses, as well as show classes, simplified and arranged in a manner which makes their distinction clear.
Pitched on a larger and more extensive scale than ever before, with the certainty of increased interest on account of various added features, this year's Fair promises to eclipse all previous records.

Numerous additions and improvements have been made in matter of show rings and amusement features have been secured of a kind and to an extent that justify the belief that the Fair will prove not only more valuable than ever to the live stock interests of Kentucky, but also more attractive to those who visit it. In addition to the weanling and yearling divisions of the great Saddle Horse Futurity, three stakes are offered in the show classes for Saddle Horses.

Attractive Program Each Day.
One of the most attractive programs
for the week will be on Wednesday
when the classes for standard bred horses will be shown.

In addition to the cash premiums offered seasons to the leading horses in service are donated by various owners and should attract the attention of the entire horse world.

Besides such great performers and
sires as Kentucky Todd, Walnut Hall,
(the sire of the Harvester 2:01) Tregantle, Cochato, Vice Commodore,
John A. McKerron, etc. Mr. David M.
Look, of New York, donates a season to the great horse Blingen (sire of the champion light harness horse of the world Uhlan). The Fair will be opened on Monday, August 12th, at 2 p. m., when an attractive racing program has been arranged, interesting show rings will be seen, and Innes' great band
with Miss Beatrice Van Loon, soprano, will be heard. The Greater Parker Shows, the greatest on the road, will hold forth in "Gayety Lane," with the cleanest and best shows ever shown to a Kentucky audience.

One Tuesday, the 13th, the big museum, always a most interesting feature of the Blue Grass Fair, will be shown, and Heresford cattle will also be seen.

Various classes for sheep and swine will be judged in the pens, and the poultry and pigeons will be judged in the poultry house. The 1912 division of the great Futurity will be shown in the afternoon. This ring last year proved the greatest show ever seen at any Fair—there being 51 exhibits and taking three hours for the judges to place the ribbons. Great show rings in other classes, three free attractions,
two big bands, two soprano singers
will help fill out the day's program.

On Wednesday morning the breeding classes for Standard bred horses
as mentioned above, classes for Jack stock, etc., will be shown in front of the grand stand.

Famous Blue Grass Stake Wednesday.
In the afternoon the famous Blue Grass Stake for five-gaited saddle horses, which always produces the best seen anywhere in the world. This stake always gives us a spirited and exciting contest, and brings out a large field.

The yearling division of the Saddle
Horse Futurity, which is a renewal of the 1911 show should be proven a great show, including as it does the winners of last year and many others.
Thursday is always the big day and an extra program has been arranged.
The forenoon will be taken up with the breeding classes for American Saddle Horses, the prizes for which are particularly rich and desirable and certain to bring about a magnificent show.

The classes for Short Horn Cattle, which always produce a show of Short Horns well worth a trip of many miles to those interested in beef cattle, will be shown in front of stand. In the afternoon will be witnessed the Junior Championship Stake for five-gaited saddle horses and an excellent program for racing, varied show classes for roadsters, three and five-gaited horses, and fine harness horses.

Friday morning will be devoted to Jersey cattle, which is always a good show as the best herds in state meet here.

In the afternoon Shetland ponies, in addition to racing and a varied program of show classes.

Thoroughbred Day Saturday.
Saturday is always known as Thoroughbred Day when we see rings which bring together many of the most famous thoroughbred horses

from the greatest nurseries in Kentucky.

The afternoon program is one of the most interesting of the entire week, as it includes all the championships in which final contests occur between the winners of the individual classes during the preceding days of the Fair. The rule governing these classes require all animals eligible to show in these rings, or forfeit money won in the previous shows and this rule will be strictly adhered to, thereby assuring large fields and affording the public the opportunity of seeing the winners brought together.

The American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association Special, for which a magnificent trophy is offered, for best stallion or mare three years old and under, will be contested on this
the last afternoon.

The week promises to be not only a gala one in Lexington, but record breaking in the history of the Blue Grass Fair.

INNES AND HIS BAND

One of the Big Musical Attractions at the Blue Grass Fair.

The newspapers of the country, in commenting on Bandmaster Innes' appointment as Director-in-Chief of Music at the World's Fair held last summer at Seattle, Wash., proclaimed him one of the really great bandmasters of the world. That he is indeed so is best evidenced by the regard in which he is held by great musicians throughout the continent and by his ability to visit a city year after year and be welcomed by ever increasing multitudes.
The longer Innes remains in a city,
the more he is appreciated. He is resourceful and versatile and ever on the lookout for some musical novelty.
His programs, paradoxical as the statement may seem, are a delight to the musical and non-musical alike.

Bandmaster Innes.

Innes indeed is known as the King of Program Makers. If some composition given is above the heads of some of his auditors, a catchy encore is cleverly introduced, which, while good music, full of rhythm and melody, directly appeals to everyone without exception. It is in fact this quickness of response to the unspoken thought of his listeners that has entrenched him so firmly in the hearts of his admirers.

Innes' coming engagement the week
of August 12 to 17 at the Blue Grass Fair, accompanied as he will be by the full strength of his sixty-two players and several notable Grand Opera Artists, promises to be an occasion of more than local interest.

POULTRY SHOW

The Blue Grass Fair has this year
become a member of the American Poultry Association, and the exhibit in this large and important department will be governed by the rules of that Association. This is a guarantee of equal rights and justice to all.

A classification embodying premiums for over 300 classes of poultry and pigeons has been prepared, and the management expects this year to be, as usual, a great show.

In addition to the cash premiums,
the Blue Grass Fair and a number of merchants of Lexington have donated 20 handsome silver cups, ten for poultry and ten for pigeons. The show is in charge of the same excellent and efficient committee as in past two years, and Mr. S. B. Lane, of Spice-land, Ind., has been secured to act as judge. Dr. C. W. Trapp, of Lexington, will judge the classes for pigeons. An entrance fee of 25 cents for each bird will be charged and the management hope that this, together with the American Poultry Association rules to govern, will confine the entries to real owners of birds.

The West is rapidly becoming the musical center of America, and it is in recognition of this that the headquarters of Innes and his band have recently been moved from New York to Chicago. In welcoming the famous bandmaster to Chicago, one of the leading newspapers of that city said:
"In response to the invitation of many of Chicago's most prominent patrons of music, Innes and his orchestral band of sixty players have removed their general offices and official home from New York to the City of Chicago. The series of popular concerts announced to be given by the organization will fittingly mark this latest addition to the musical forces of our city."

Building the Tallest Skyscraper by Electricity.

Next to the Eiffel Tower, the new Woodworth building in New York is the tallest structure ever reared to the skies by the hand of man. This skyscraper will be fifty-five stories high, totaling 750 feet, and will be head and shoulders above the Singer and Metropolitan towers.

To erect this wonderful building powerful electric motors must raise more than 130,000 tons of steel, brick, stone, etc., some of it to the roof. Without electricity it would be difficult, if not impossible, to build and maintain such a mighty building. When completed it will be a small city within itself, fully connected with local and express electric elevators, telephones, electric lights and a dozen other things, from huge ventilating fans to push buttons,
operated by electricity.

Electricity, the master mechanic,
is practically building this enormous structure. To hoist the steel and set it in place are six derricks driven by eighty horse power motors. Four of these followed the course of construction to the twenty-sixth floor, the limit of the building proper, after which two proceed with the tower work as far as the fortieth floor, from which one of the derricks keeps pace with the work. The hoisting engines and motors are seldom moved. They remain several floors below the working level, the cables, of course, running through the structure from the drums to the block and tackle on the lifting apparatus itself. A telephone system supplemented by pull-bell, for the motorman of the derrick acts entirely on signal, just as the engineer of an ocean liner drives his ship entirely by the bells from the bridge. Only, in the erection of a modern skyscraper the bridge is seldom more than a plank extending over the edge of the floor, while the lookout, instead of being in the crow's nest at the masthead, rides through space on the girder. The work of the hoist is by no means completed with the safe delivery of the steel at the top floor; it must all be fitted together, and so skilled have the workers become, and so expert are they with their signals, that the beams are guided into place with little friction and loss of energy.

Although steel-hoisting is thrilling, and to a certain degree picturesque, as it is watched daily by thousands from the City Hall Park and the Postoffice, it is far from being the heaviest part of the work. Seventeen million brick, weighing 42,500 tons, and 7,500 tons of terra-cotta are also used, but they are carried to the bricklayers in prosaic wheelbarrows, and on every-day hoists.

Six of the hoists are operated by forty horse power motors and four by fifty horse power motors.
Cement and concrete are mixed in the basement, the machines,
four in number, being operated by 15 horse power motors. A plumb-ing system is necessary, and temporary pipes lead to hydrants and two 15 horse power motors keeping the water in circulation. Another motor of 50 horse power pumps rain-water and leakage out of the basement.

There are two compressor plants
on the work, one for the steam riveters and drills and the other for shooting cement. Seventy-five horse power are required for the riveters, and all day long their gating-gun fusillade is heard. The electrical installation amounts to about twelve hundred horse power
in motors, two hundred are lights,
and about two thousand incandescent lamps. A force of six electricians is kept constantly busy looking after the wiring.

His Level Best.

The coroner for Slushington was an able enough man, but he had his limitations.

And these showed in a case where the principal and only witness was a wandering musician, with a monkey and an organ.

"Hum—haw—my good man, can you speak German?" asked the coroner, after several questions in English had been met with a shake of the head.

The musician shook his head.
"Can you speak Hungarian?"
was the next question.

Again the witness wagged.
"Can you speak Russian?"
Same reply.

Then the coroner turned to the intelligent jury:

"Gentlemen," he said, "I am afraid that nothing can be learned from this witness. I have addressed him in four languages, and he understands none of them. Gentlemen, you may prepare your verdict!"

FORBEARANCE OF PERICLES.

Once, after being reviled and ill spoken of all day long in his own hearing by some vile and abandoned fellow in the open market place,
where he was engaged in the dispatch of some urgent affair, he continued his business in perfect silence and in the evening returned home composedly, the man still dogging him at the heels and pelting him
all the way with abuse and foul language; and stepping into his house, it being by this time dark, he ordered one of his servants to take a light and to go along with the man and see him en home.—Plutarch.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For President
WOODROW WILSON
of New Jersey

For Vice-President
THOMAS R. MARSHALL
of Indiana

JUDGE A. W. YOUNG.

While Argus, of the Louisville Herald, is tipping Judge Allie W. Young as the probable successor of U. S. Senator W. O. Bradley, its contemporary, the Times, is asserting that he will be the chief distributor under President-elect Woodrow Wilson.

One of the Times' articles is as follows:

"Judge Allie W. Young, of Morehead, is spending a few days in Louisville. Judge Young is one of the best-known Democrats in Kentucky and has a large following of personal friends. He was a delegate-at-large from Kentucky to the Baltimore convention and easily ranked as one of the topnotchers on the Kentucky delegation. Judge Young knew what was coming off before the stampede to Gov. Wilson, and while most of the delegates went up in the air, he only smiled. The Morehead jurist is regarded as being close to the Wilson organization, and he is expected to cut some ice as far as Kentucky is concerned in the event of the New Jerseyman's election to the presidency."

Mr. J. Smith Hays, who loved the mountains so ardently that he left them and is now a resident of the blue grass county of Clark, is referred to by the Jackson Times as a "mountain man." We have as much respect for a mountain man as we have for a blue grass man, but fail to see what that has to do with his qualifications for Appellate Judge. Such a plea to local prejudice, should be rebuked by the people of the mountains by voting for the Hon. C. C. Turner, of Montgomery county. He is a competent and worthy gentleman and deserves this high honor at the hands of his fellow-democrats.

Instead of petitioning President Taft and Mr. Roosevelt to withdraw in favor of a third man, wouldn't it be wiser for them to quit in Mr. Wilson's favor? To use a Bull Moose expression, he has them both "beaten to a frazzle" and everybody knows it.

It has been suggested that the pavement in front of the Government building will be repaired after some one has been crippled.

SOME SPOONERISMS OF NOTE

Really Remarkable Slips of the Tongue
That Have Added to the Gay-ety of Nations.

A "Spoonerism" is the name given in England to one of those involuntary inversions of words that occasionally enliven conversation. As for instance, when the returned traveler tells of "rambling up the scalps" while in Switzerland and one knows that he means "rambling up the Alps," but has simply perpetrated a Spoonerism," so called after a canon of New college, Oxford, who achieved a long and exhilarating list of these slips.

Some of the more famous "Spoonerisms" are recorded in the form of a narrative of a returning vear who, on reaching the station left his "rage and a bug" with a porter while he went to the refreshment room for "a bath of milk and a glass gun."

During the course of an address on "Kindness to Animals" the lecturer remarked that "in Piedmont, where the sheep are so cherished, a flock would willingly follow a showing leopard."

HER LESSON IN ARITHMETIC

Small Girl Had Done All She Could
to Remedy Mother's Deficiencies.

Martha heard someone speak of her mother's deficiencies in arithmetic—which are perfectly visible to the naked eye—so she came and sat down beside her gravely and began: "Mother, take four from fourteen and how much does that leave?"

"Ten," proclaimed the parent, thinking she was teaching the little one her lesson.

"Now, three from eight—that's rather hard, you know."

"Yes, it's frequently gotten on my nerves, too—but it eventually leaves five."

"And four from five."

"One," exclaimed her elder from the proud pinnacle of perfect knowledge, thinking also what a nice teacher she was.

Martha rose with a sigh of relief from the region of her pinafore, and said kindly, but with some condescension, "Well, now you have learned that much, anyway."—Lippincott's.

CANAL ZONE POLICE.

They have different looking policemen on the American side of the zone line; tall, bronzed, former troopers of the United States cavalry, in the smart khaki uniform of the zone police. These are the men who have made brigandage a lost art on the isthmus, and have taught the Panamanians to vote with ballots instead of machetes and Mauser rifles. Two hundred of this efficient little military constabulary, much resembling the Canadian northwest mounted police, keep the 400 square miles of the canal zone as peaceful as a New England village Sunday morning, and anyone who mistakes it for a lawless frontier community is likely to find himself making roads with the rest of the chain gang.—St. Nicholas.

CATS MUST WEAR COLLARS.

Not long ago Munich decided to impose a tax on cats, and now the Swiss capital of Berne is thinking of doing the same thing. "Far too many pussies!" is the cry; and it is high time that every cat, as in Munich, should wear a collar, showing to whom she belongs, or be taken up as having no visible means of subsistence, as a rogue and vagabond, and put out of existence. It is complained that in Berne and the surrounding district there is an altogether immoderate number of cats, and that they wage incessant war on the none too numerous wild singing birds, which are much prized in Switzerland.

RARE JEWEL.

"As others have said before me," said Dobbleigh, "consistency is a jewel."

"I have reason to doubt the truth of that ancient saw," observed Sinnickus.

"And what is that reason?" asked Dobbleigh.

"Women are fond of jewels," said Sinnickus.—Harper's Weekly.

A SWEEPING STATEMENT.

"How clear the horizon is!" remarked a young woman.

"Yes," agreed her humorous companion; "I've just swept it with my eye."—Answers.

ELECTRICITY IN THE HOME

Writer Sees Culinary Millennium Following General Introduction for Cooking Purposes.

For home use electricity is still in most localities comparatively expensive, but it will be less so when it comes into more general use. If the electric companies would follow the example of the gas companies in renting cooking ranges, it would be a great stride forward. In England some of the companies charge a special low rate for electric cooking, because it is done mostly in the daytime, when there is little demand for the current for lighting purposes. But the most radical way to reduce the cost will be to combine the electric range with the fireless cooker.

Thousands of families that could not pay for an electric current five or six hours a day could easily afford one for the fifteen minutes necessary for heating the food before it is put into the box, besides the few minutes needed for crisping roasts, browning coffee, or toasting bread. It is quite likely that the electric range can be so constructed in part that no separate cooking box will be needed; and then the culinary millennium!—Henry T. Finek, in Century Magazine.

Millionaire "Worker" Proved That He Was Possessed of Some Little Conscience.

Richard Croker, at a dinner in New York, praised the young American millionaire who works.

"It is better to work," he said, "than to spend one's days in idleness, like young Lord Rocksavage, Lord Portarlinton and so forth."

"But, when I say work, I mean work. I know a young millionaire who claims to work, but the other morning at about eleven a friend saw him run down the steps of his Fifth avenue house and prepare to enter his waiting motor car."

"What's your hurry?" said his friend.

"Oh," the young man replied, as he looked at his wrist watch, "I've got to get down to the office right away, or I won't be there in time to go to lunch."

EAGLES IN SWITZERLAND.

The Swiss federal government has decided to protect the few remaining eagles left in the Alps. It seems that there are only four nesting-places of the eagle still known to exist in the Alps, and watchers have been told to guard over them, and to repay the peasants in the valleys which they haunt any damage they do. The work has already been taken in hand. Last year the eagles made off with 14 lambs, four kids, and one cat, which were duly paid for. They cost the government in this way 113 francs. In the valley of Oberberg the peasants have tried the experiment of putting scarlet collars round the necks of the newly born lambs in order to frighten the eagles. The government is apparently willing to provide the collars, and the experiment has been successful. But the eagles must live on something, and they will no doubt in time learn that the collars are not so alarming after all.

CREW OF COLUMBUS.

The list of the officers and sailors in the first voyage of Columbus was almost cosmopolitan in its character. Among them there was a Jew, Luis do Torres; an Englishman, Arthur Laws; Italians, Portuguese, Spaniards and several other nationalities, though, of course, the Spaniards were largely in the majority. It is maintained by some authorities, with considerable plausibility, too, that there was a Scotchman in the list, and that after Columbus himself he was the first man to tread the soil of the new world.

Cloudburst Destroys Property.

Four persons were drowned at Alton, Ill., by a cloudburst Sunday which destroyed two miles of streets, wrecked six buildings and a gas plant, with a property loss of $250,000. At Denver, a cloudburst caused a million dollar loss, the principal streets being inundated and railroad service was suspended. A severe storm left a trail of devastation through the District of Columbia, and heavy damage was occasioned in Washington. A hurricane swept Mobile Bay, and the city was deluged by a cloudburst. Three persons were drowned in Detroit River seeking relief from heat. Four were drowned in New York under like conditions. In Pittsburg three died from heat; three drowned; two were killed by lightning and two committed suicide while crazed by heat.

Large Display of Diamonds.

What was undoubtedly the largest display of diamonds ever shown in Mt. Sterling was at John W. Jones' jewelry store one morning last week when a traveling man was prevailed upon to allow the public to witness his immense collection, which was valued at $100,000. The assortment was very elaborate, some of the pieces being valued as high as $5,000. Many of our people witnessed the display and were dazed by the splendor of the stones.

James Couldn't Find Dog He Was Sent For, but Was Willing to Be Accommodating.

They're telling a new story on a Washington restaurateur and his great Dane dog. Recently the man visited New York and took one of those prize pups with him. It was that bay colored one.

He reached the hotel, and, climbing out of the cab, wandered up to the hotel register.

"I have a dog outside," said he to the clerk, "and I'd like you to take care of him."

The clerk, an affable soul, called to James and told him to go out and carry the dog inside.

James went outside. There was a long wait. The colonel became fidgety; the clerk more so. Finally James returned, baffled and helpless.

"Boss," said he, "Ah couldn't find no dawg out in dat cab. They's a cow, though, and effen you-all want hit carried in Ah'll git a truck."

MEANT IT FOR THE WITNESS.

While Thomas Field was in the dock at Birmingham (Eng.) Assizes recently, charged with breaking a pawnbroker's window and with theft, he picked up a stool in the dock and hurled it with great violence at the presiding judge. The stool struck his lordship's desk, and glancing off caught the judge above the eye. His lordship immediately retired to his private room. After an absence of about five minutes his lordship returned. Addressing the prisoner his lordship said: "Don't throw anything like that again. You might kill me next time." The prisoner: "I meant it for the witness. I did not mean it for you." The prisoner was found guilty, and the judge said he would have to serve out the remainder of a sentence on a previous conviction and do five years' penal servitude in addition.

SEAT OF HUNGER AND THIRST.

Whether the hunger sense has its seat in the stomach and thirst in the throat has been a subject of much scientific controversy. The Italian physician, Valenti, now puts the seat of both these emotions in the gullet; he found that a cocaine injection in the oesophagus (the channel from the mouth to the stomach) resulted in immediate suppression of the feeling of both hunger and thirst. Savages have long known that the chewing of coca leaves renders the gullet insensitive and destroys any desire for food or drink.

CHILD'S BEAUTIFUL IDEA.

Elsie, seeing a piece of velvet for the first time, was struck by finding that one side was smooth, soft and glossy, while the other was soft and cottony. Her mother explained to her that there were generally two sides to a thing. Shortly after this Elsie, while out walking with her mother one clear night, looked up into the dusky sky and, seeing the whole heavens thickly studded with stars cried: "O, mother, if the wrong side of heaven is so beautiful, what must the other side be?"

CHAPLAINS FOR FRENCH NAVY.

It will be news to most persons that the French navy have no chaplains afloat, although a moment's consideration would bring to remembrance the fact of the complete divorce between church and state in France. The subject is brought prominently into notice by a petition signed by a great number of the mothers or widows of the sailors who were victims of the accident on the Gloire or the Liberte. The petitioners are to be found in the Midi, Brittany, Var and Finisterre, and they pray the senate for the re-appointment of chaplains on the warships.

PHYSICIAN'S LONG LIFE.

The distinction of being England's oldest doctor (and probably also the oldest practitioner in the world) belongs to Dr. Edgar Jones, M. R. C. S., who, a short time ago entered his one hundred and third year at his residence at Great Burstead, in Essex. Dr. Jones is an Essex magistrate, and in March last completed his sixtieth year as a member of the bench. He comes of a long-lived family; his father died at the age of ninety-two, his eldest brother and sister were both over ninety at the time of their death, whilst another brother is also nearing his one hundredth year.

TAKE IT IN TIME

Just as Scores of Mt. Sterling People Have.

Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect kidney backache, urinary troubles often follow. Act in time by curing the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weakened kidneys. Many people in this locality recommend them.

George McCandles, butcher, Paris, Ky., says:

"Some time ago I had occasion to use a kidney remedy and at that time they gave me relief, which has proven permanent. I got them for backache and disordered kidneys. The way they stopped my trouble has proven their merits."

The above is not an isolated case. Mr. McCandles is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. McCandles had.

THE LONG AGO.

I'd like to sneak away today Off yonder where the willows sway, And loaf beside a little stream Where long ago I used to dream. Barefooted I would like to be, A pole cut from a hickory tree, A line of knotted string, and bait I dug beyond the garden gate I'd like to take along, the way I did in golden yesterday.

But that's a wish I'll never get— It's buried in the past, and yet Somehow my rod of split bamboo, My Shakespeare reel and tackle new And artificial minnows fine, The splendid silk and linen line Set me to wishing I could know Once more the joys of long ago, The charms of that old fishing hole, When I had but a hickory pole.

I'm starting out at break of day To fish out yonder in the bay With costly tackle, shining bright, But I shall miss the old delight; And I shall wish that I could be That youngster, underneath the tree, That bare of head, barefooted lad, Who only home-made tackle had, And live my yesterday again, Because I used to catch 'em then.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. EMBRYO KINGDOM PARABLES. Mark iv, 26-32; Matthew xiii, 33. July 21.

"Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven."—Matthew vi, 10.

MANY OF US in the past have overlooked the fact that nearly all of the teachings of the Redeemer appertain to the Messianic Kingdom. Some of us had the unscriptural thought that Messiah's Kingdom would consist merely of a sovereignty in the hearts of His followers.

Now we see the real import of the Great Teacher's utterances on this subject. As He taught us to pray, "Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth, even as it is done in heaven," He meant that we should have in mind God's glorious promise that eventually, through Messiah's Kingdom, ignorance, sin and death will be overthrown, and the obedient of mankind will be released from these until "every knee shall bow and every tongue confess" to the glory of God.

Today's study sets before us a number of Jesus' parables respecting the Kingdom. The majority of these refer to the Kingdom class of the present time rather than to the Kingdom in its fully developed state. All of God's consecrated people since Pentecost constitute the Kingdom in embryo. Some of these embryo members may yet fail to make their calling and election sure, may fail to hear the "well done."

The Kingdom Development Slow. The first illustration of our lesson is that God's Kingdom in its embryonic condition is of slow development, covering the entire period of this Gospel Age. It is like seed cast into the ground, which brings its maturity when it is harvested. Jesus and the Apostles did the seed sowing, not only for their own day but for the whole "wheat" class. The gathering for the heavenly garner will be accomplished by the First Resurrection.

The different parables do not view the embryo Kingdom from the same standpoint. The parable of the mustard seed appears to represent the Kingdom from the viewpoint of the world. From that little seed we have a great institution today with many denominational branches. But alas! its thrifty development has invited into its branches the fowls of the air, which the Lord elsewhere describes as representing the Wicked One and his angels who could have no place in the Church if it were to proclaim only the true Gospel.

Indeed, it is the neglect to preach this Gospel of the "narrow way" that has brought such prosperity to nominal Christianity and made it a desirable place for "the fowls of the air"—Satan and his deluded ones. This seems to be the picture which the Great Teacher gives us in Revelation xviii, 2: "She hath become the hold of every foul spirit and the cage of every unclean and hateful bird."

The word "cage" seems to imply that these "birds" are considered very desirable, and are held on to by nominal Christianity—probably because regarded as being amongst their best paying members.

Parable of the Leaven.

Throughout the Scriptures leaven is used as the symbol of sin. Thus when Jesus in His purity was to be symbolized as the "bread from heaven," the Jews were directed to use unleavened bread. Again, at their annual Passover season, the Jews were directed to cleanse their houses of leaven. St. Paul, commenting on this, writes to the Church, "Purge out, therefore, the old leaven" [sin, malice, hatred, strife, etc.], that you may be, with Christ, the one unleavened loaf.

It is true that in one of the official sacrifices bread was to be baked with leaven; but this, we believe, was for the very purpose of symbolizing the fact that we, the Church, were by nature sinners, "children of wrath, even as others." This baking represents the experiences through which we must pass in order that sinful and corrupting tendencies may be completely destroyed.

In this parable corrupting the three our Lord represents measures of meal, a woman mixing leaven with meal, with the result that the whole mass was leavened. Consequently, if any of the family desired pure, unleavened bread, it would be unobtainable. What does this represent? We reply that in Scriptural symbolism a woman represents an ecclesiastical system. The "woman" in the parable represents a system possessed of the pure meal—the pure food provided by the Lord for the household of faith.

The Word of God, originally pure, is no longer accepted. The leaven has spread so that today the entire mass of theological doctrine is offensive to all Christian people. The parable was a prophecy of what has occurred. It is time all true Christians were heartening back from the creeds of the Dark Ages to the Words of Jesus, the Apostles and the Prophets.

Irrigation Older Than Civilization in America

Hundreds of thousands of acres of valuable farming land have been reclaimed in the arid west through the means of irrigation. The mountain streams have been dammed and their waters diverted to irrigate vast tracts of sun-dried soil. Great electrically-driven pumps have been installed to raise millions and millions of gallons of water from the depths of the earth to be flooded over the dry lands in order to stimulate the growing crops.

But, it must not be forgotten that irrigation in the west is not a new thing, although many of these recent systems are numbered among the gigantic engineering ventures of the world.

The first systematic employment of irrigation in the arid west by English-speaking people was made by the Mormons, who, expelled from their earlier settlements in the Mississippi Valley, sought refuge in the unknown desert regions, and at last, after experiencing great hardships, were compelled, through necessity, to halt and settle on the shores of the great salt lake. Here the soil was found to be so barren that crops could not be grown by ordinary means, and, forced through fear and privation to adopt new and extraordinary devices, they turned the waters of the little canyon streams upon the spot where Salt Lake City now stands. After many years of scant success or disheartening failure they succeeded in mastering the art of irrigation, and, under the wisdom of their leaders they have become a prosperous people.

Long before the Mormons came, however, small sections of the dryer portions of the great west were being cultivated through irrigation. The ancient canals of the town-dwelling Pueblo Indian tribe may still be seen in the broad valleys of the arid portions of New Mexico and Arizona. On the mesas, or highlands, of southwestern Colorado and the adjacent sections of Utah, Arizona and New Mexico are to be found the remains of the wonderful cliff dwellings, and in the little nearby valleys are the wonderful irrigating ditches used by the inhabitants of a thousand or more years ago.

The descendants of these tribes till a portion of the lands which were supplied with irrigating ditches and canals at the time when the Spanish first came into the region. They follow many of the practices of their ancestors, having been influenced but slightly by contact with white settlers, who, rather, have learned from them how to successfully cultivate the soil.

The Mexicans of mixed Spanish and Indian blood gradually pushed up into this region, and from the necessities of the situation adopted irrigating methods. Ditches dug by them are to be found along the Rio Grande as far north as Colorado and the tributaries as the Arkansas River. The early Spanish missions of the Pacific coast also practiced irrigation, and in southern California particularly, are still to be seen the ruins of substantial masonry dams and headworks which were constructed by Indian labor.

The New Fish and Game Law.

The new fish and game law was enacted through the efforts of those who would protect the fish and game of the State from extinction. Were there long continuation of the wholesale slaughter of game, and the dynamiting and seining of fish, one source of the food supply of the State would soon be cut off entirely. The purpose of this law is not to turn Kentucky into a vast game preserve for those who have the time and leisure to hunt and fish, but to encourage the increase of birds and game of every kind and of fish in every stream in Kentucky. Discussing the new law, the Louisville Post brings out these facts in the following editorial:

THE NEW GAME LAW.

The law regulating the conditions under which men may hunt in Kentucky went into effect the 1st of July, 1912. It requires every hunter to have a license. It attaches a penalty of $50 for the transfer of this license. The applicant pays $1 and the license authorizes him to hunt anywhere in the State, but only with the written permission of the owners of the land on which he hunts.

All resident land owners and members of their families may hunt upon their own land without a license. Tenants and members of their families may hunt upon their leasehold without a license. Any one hunting without a license will be fined not less than $50 nor more than $200, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail.

The one purpose of this act, the one excuse for the restraints it imposes, is that, as game and fish are valuable food products, the production of game and fish should be encouraged by legislation.

One conception of the act is that it is intended to turn the whole State into a large game preserve for a privileged class. When that is the case the law will fail. The desire is to encourage the increase of birds of all kinds and character, and of game of every kind and of fish in all of our streams.

Under the new law a game and fish commission is established which is to have charge of the propagation of such game birds, game animals, fish, and song and insectivorous birds, and animals, as they shall deem to be of public service.

This purpose of the law is too often overlooked. It is one that should receive careful attention. We should add in this manner to our food supply, and plans should be adopted and supported, having this purpose in view.

County Clerk Keller Greene has advised us that he now has the necessary licenses on hand, and those who desire same can secure them at his office.

"I have been somewhat costive, but Doan's Regulets gave just the results desired. They act mildly and regulate the bowels perfectly."

SPEED PROGRAM

RUNNING RACES AND HARNESS RACES TO BE GIVEN ON EACH DAY.

Cup Races to be Given Each Day by the Gentlemen's Driving Club at Blue Grass Fair.

An excellent speed program has been arranged for the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington, week of August 12th to 17th.

On each of the six days there will be running races and harness racing on every day but Saturday. The two-year-old stake to be contested during the week, closed with 33 entries, including nearly all of the best in training in Kentucky. This race has always been one of the best races of the year for two-year-olds and this should prove no exception to the rule.

In addition there will be a 2:16 trot, a 2:20 pace, 3-year-old trot and 2:22 trot. There will be no deduction from winners except in the stake, the entries to which closed May 10th.

Other features will be added and announced later.

THE PARKER SHOWS

Will Present Several Headline Attractions at Blue Grass Fair.

It is always customary for the larger tented enterprises to offer one big feature attraction, sparing neither time or expense to make it the crown jewel of the show. Mr. C. W. Parker, founder and owner of the Parker Amusement Company, who remains at his big factories at Leavenworth, Kan., and directs his various companies from the home office, conceived the idea that a big European novelty would be the proper attraction for his largest company, The Greater Parker Shows. With this idea in view Miss Essie Fay and her beautiful full blooded Arabian were booked for this season's tour of America.

Miss Fay, who was an English woman by birth, was touring Arabia with her father, who at that time was a member of the English Parliament. When a guest of the Prince of Morocco at his palace in Tripoli, the Prince was pleased with Miss Fay and presented her with an Arabian yearling. The young lady shipped the horse to her father's stable. While roving the green with her new pet, she formed an attachment to the colt, and he the same to her, and in his grace and beauty, she thought she saw something promising. With his increasing brains and grace, and the careful training of its mistress, "Arabia" was quick to win acclaims of royalty and nobility in the greatest coliseum of Europe.

At London, Paris, Berlin, Naples, Madrid, Moscow, Vienna and St. Petersburg "Arabia" under the directions of Miss Fay, has astonished thousands who have witnessed "Arabia" add and subtract, answer questions, "yes" or "no" by the nod of her head, use the telephone, and do other astonishing feats, displaying an animal intelligence almost unbelievable of any dumb brute. "Arabia" goes to a big brass bed, takes off his nightcap, undresses, turns down the covers, arranges the pillows, gets into bed, covers himself up again and apparently goes to sleep. Finishing his exhibition with a startling and exciting fire scene. Crushing down his stable door, he dashes across the lawn to the burning building of his mistress, he reappears leaping through the window with an infant child in his mouth and his mistress across his shoulders. "Arabia" the "fire-fighting" horse and "Arabia" the "good-night" horse will appear in Lexington at the Blue Grass Fair August 7-12.

HALF FARE RATES TO FAIR

Do not fail to visit the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington the week of August 12th to 17th. One fare rates will prevail on all railroads in Kentucky. Every afternoon and evening beginning Sunday, August 11th, there will be magnificent band concerts by Frederick Nell Innes' Orchestral Band, accompanied by Beatrice Van Loon, one of America's younger sopranos, who is recognized as one of the most charming and delightful soloists before the public to-day.

WOMAN'S DEPARTMENT.

The Woman's Department of the Blue Grass Fair, to be held at Lexington, August 12 to 17th, will be more important and extensive this year than ever before. The premium list has been revised, and classes offered cover almost every kind of woman's work and table luxuries. The third floor of the Art Hall is given entirely to this department, and is usually one of the most attractive exhibits of the Big Fair.

This year the second floor will be utilized by the "Made in Lexington Club," and it is needless to say will be made as attractive as possible, and will be an exposition of wares manufactured in Lexington.

On the lower floor the management has arranged with the Canadian Government Exhibit to bring their display of wheat, grain and other agricultural products. This should attract the attention of every farmer in the state, as it is the same display made at big state fairs and expositions.

Newspapers as Political Advertising Mediums.

The Baltimore News calls attention to the enormous waste of advertising at the Democratic convention held in that city. It spoke of the mass of circulars, buttons, advertising novelties and things of that character that littered the floor each day at the conclusion of the session. It pointed out that this waste of advertising matter could have been avoided by the intelligent use of the advertising columns of the daily newspapers. It spoke of the tremendous effect a page of advertising appearing each day of the convention in behalf of any of the candidates would have had upon the delegates assembled.

It is gratifying to those of us engaged in the newspaper business to know that there has recently been a distinct movement among politicians and candidates for office toward the use of newspaper advertising columns in presenting the claims of the various candidates for office. In some sections of the country pages of advertising of this kind have been printed in the newspapers during municipal and State campaigns. The effect of this advertising has been exceedingly gratifying to the campaign managers who have tried it, because they have been able to place before the very men they desire to reach the arguments in behalf of their candidates that they are most anxious to present.

Although during the last two months a great deal of news water has been printed in the newspapers concerning the candidates for the nomination for presidency on both tickets, the most of it has been of a general character. Had the advertising columns of the newspapers been used in an intelligent way by any one of the candidates his chances, either at Chicago or at Baltimore, for landing the coveted prize would have been infinitely better than under the methods that have been in use for so many years.

The advertising managers of the newspapers should be alert to the opportunity which the coming presidential campaign will give them for securing advertising from the several national committees. The money that was formerly spent in torchlight processions, in barbecues and in many other ways will now be devoted to the more modern methods of exploitation. A campaign that has been carefully prepared by experienced advertising men will go a long way toward electing any candidate for the presidency.

The people are more intelligent and better educated than they were twenty-five years ago. They are no longer influenced by spectacular displays of enthusiasm or by political picnics. What they now want are the facts and the arguments showing why their vote should be given to any candidate before the people.

The best way to reach the public is through the columns of the daily and weekly newspapers, and money spent on many of the other mediums is almost certain to be wasted.—Editor and Publisher.

CORRESPONDENCE.

STOOPS.

(By B. M. Goodlan.)

Most of the wheat in this section has been sold at $1 per bushel.

Some farmers have begun topping their tobacco. Worms have begun to do damage.

Our citizens are overworking themselves, getting ready for the Fair next week.

Mrs. Bert Sanders and little son, Roy, are at Swango Springs.

The Stoops base ball team is a "hummer" all right, even it isn't a winner.

A large tobacco barn is being erected on the Bigstaff farm at Springfield.

Miss Mollie Thompson has gone to visit her cousin, Miss Peterson, near Paris.

James Crockett is still in a serious condition. He has been moved to the home of his father here.

Work will soon begin on the bridge over Hinkston on the Hinkston pike. The material has nearly all been placed on the ground.

While all the rest of Montgomery county seemed to be water bound last week, this section received only light showers. A good rain is needed badly.

A mule ridden by James Hicks fell in a sink hole, and, in its struggle to get out, Mr. Hicks was thrown violently to the ground and suffered an injury to his right limb.

Roy McClain came up from Bourbon county Sunday to visit relatives.

A large number of citizens met at Springfield Saturday morning, and after a few hours arduous labor the church yard presented a most respectful appearance.

Clifton Bush and wife, of Grassy Lick, visited the family of J. H. Gillaspie Sunday.

Among those who will take part in the ordination services at Springfield Sunday will be Rev. W. O. Shewmaker, of Pisgah; Rev. I. C. Hunt, of Lexington, and Prof. Leonard, of Lee's College Institute, Jackson. Everybody is invited to attend this service. Dinner will be served on the ground.

Farmers began Monday putting up the finest crop of hay we've had for years.

Dr. W. O. Bullock, of Lexington was here Monday to see James Crockett.

GRASSY LICK.

(By Miss Elizabeth Carr.)

J. M. McGuire was in Morgan county last week on business.

T. H. Carr and wife visited the family of Mrs. Lydia Rushford near Winchester Saturday and Sunday.

Henry Turner and wife visited relatives at Salem last week.

Mrs. Walter Carr and daughter, Fenton, and Miss Elizabeth Carr visited the latter's sister in Winchester last week.

The terrible wind storm here the 10th of July did much damage, blowing down trees and destroying acres of corn and tobacco.

The Sunday School here went on a picnic to Oil Springs last Wednesday. All report a nice time.

Isaac Dean was stung by a honey bee one day last week and was very sick for several days.

Misses Bessie and Minnie Lee Blount spent several days with Miss Bessie Rushford in Winchester last week.

B. P. Kush and daughter, Miss

Elizabeth, of Omer, visited the family of J. M. McGuire Sunday night. Miss Elizabeth will stay for the fair.

Reduction in Express

Rates Proposed.

Sweeping reductions in express rates, averaging, in general, approximately 15 per cent; drastic reforms in regulations and practices, and comprehensive changes in the methods of operation are prescribed in a report made public by the Interstate Commerce Commission of its investigation into the business of the thirteen great express companies of the United States.

Signs Good Contract.

Mrs. Stella Cooper Gay has signed contract to sing the leading role in one of the biggest musical productions to be brought out in Chicago next season.

UNFORTUNATE START IN LIFE

Confessed Forger Had Good Right to Complain He Never Had Seen Given Fair Chance.

The attorneys for a confessed forger were before Judge Markey, in the criminal court. They asked for clemency; it was the first offense. The judge questioned the defendant, asking him whether he was married. "No, judge," he replied, "I'm not married. I'm sorry to say it, judge, but when I was just a boy my father was sentenced to the penitentiary for manslaughter, and when he went to prison my mother deserted me. I've had to take care of myself the best way I could. I've written to my mother three times since I've been in jail, but she has not answered my letters."

"How old are you?" asked the court. "Thirty years old today," said the forger, as he hung his head. Attorneys, prosecutor and judge were quiet for a moment, and then the court said he would take the matter under advisement. — Indianapolis News.

SPIRIT IN THESE COLUMNS

Early Century Journalists Produced "Copy" With Considerable Ginger in It.

A newspaper dated Friday, August 9, 1833, a copy of which has just been exhumed in Nova Scotia, makes the profound remark, "our lot is cast in eventful times. Wherever we cast our eye great changes are in progress." The one-eyed editor then proceeds to tell a story of office hunters riding about the country with gingerbread and bottles of brandy in their saddlebags "by way of electioneering." It would seem that the changes in progress did not include the method of winning votes by the treating process. Nowadays, however, the "country bumpkins" have to be content with "oceans of beer" instead of "slathers of brandy." The advertising columns are rich and racy. One notice published at so much per line declares that "whereas some villainous-disposed poltroon has asserted that the advertiser was an informer," he declares, "In the presence of God, Angels and Men" (all capitalized) that said villain is a member of the original Ananias club. The advertiser submits his opinion "to a generous public."

TO ENCOURAGE

A project is being developed in France by which it is expected to send wireless messages around the globe, and this will be done by erecting stations in the French colonies. A commission has already been formed by the colonial department to carry out the enterprise and Commodore Ferrie, the well known wireless engineer, who is at the head of the Eiffel tower plant, is in charge of the technical matters. Not more than $2,500,000 will be required for the twelve wireless stations called for by the program, and it should be completed in about two or three years.

"THROW" HORSE TO SHOE HIM

Blacksmiths in Turkey Render Animal Helpless Before Beginning the Operation.

In many parts of Turkey horse-shoes are simply a flat plate of iron with a hole in the middle. An extraordinary method still obtains in portions of the Ottoman empire of shoeing the horse.

The farrier doubles a long rope and knots a loop at the end to about the size of a large horse collar. This is put over the horse's head after the manner of a horse's collar, and the knot rests on the horse's chest.

The next step is to bring the two ends of the rope between the animal's legs. Each rope then, taken by a man, is hitched on the fetlocks of the horse's legs and brought through the loop in front. Then, by a hard, steady pull, the hind legs are drawn up to the forelegs and the horse falls heavily on its side.

All four feet are now tied together by the fetlocks, the horse is propped up on his back, and the farrier sits quietly down beside him, takes off the old shoes and puts on the new.

DIAGNOSIS WAS WRONG.

"Motor accident?" said the doctor. The answer was in the negative. "I see," said the doctor. "This poor woman has been mauled by some ferocious animal. She must have fallen from a great height and come down on some very explosive material. This, in its turn, threw her under a train, and an ordinary earthquake would account for the rest."

And still he was all wrong. She had merely tried to secure the remnant that just matched at the January sales.

FOOD OF RUSSIAN HORSES.

Oats constitute three-fourths of the food upon which the Russian horse must exist during the twelve months of the year. Russian oats, however, are far superior in sustaining power to the American cereal. It is also claimed that animals do not become so tired of this steady diet as they do of the hay and corn products in the United States. This statement is made by an American with years' experience in horse breeding and training in Russia.
